H. H. LOVING SHOT H. A. ROSE TO DEATH SHOCKING TRAGEDY IN THE FRATERNITY BUILDING THIS MORNING.

Rose Wounded Three Times and Lived Only an Hour After Shot.—Loving Claims Self Defense and Surrendered Immediately.

A shocking tragedy occurred in the office of the Kentucky Mill and Lumber company in the Fraternity building on Broadway between Fifth and Sixth streets, about 10 o'clock this morning when H. H. Loving, last night elected president of the company, shot H. A. Rose, who resigned as president three days ago, with a .38-calibre pistol, inflicting three wounds from which Rose died about an hour later.

Loving refused to make any statement to the press, but statements made to his friends immediately after the shooting were that he shot in self-defense.

The lumber company's offices are on the eastern side of the lower floor of the building, near the front. Last night the company was reorganized following Rose's withdrawal.

Cause of Trouble in Company.

It had been known for two weeks or more that other members of the company were trying to get rid of Rose, claiming that he had been selling the company's lumber by the carload and keeping the money.

It was intimated that Rose sometime in May sold a car load of lumber out of the Cairo yard of the company to a Chicago firm for something over $700, and that the check was made payable to him, and he deposited it in his own name in bank and no record existed of the sale on the company's books.

Detective T. J. Moore was put to trace every movement of the car from the day it was loaded until it was delivered and paid for.

It was expected that Rose would be arrested last Wednesday, a week ago, if it was decided to prosecute him, but it seems that the company decided to let him go if he paid up, and it is said that he paid $900 and resigned with the company.

Since then the feeling between Rose and some of the other members was not good. The transaction was published in one of the papers, which further incited the animosity that had sprung up, and the tragedy was not much of a surprise to some.

Three Shots Took Effect.

Three shots were fired, one taking effect in the back of the head and penetrating the brain; the second entering the forehead and penetrating the brain, it is thought, and the third entering the left side and penetrating the intestines. Anyone of the three shots fired would have proven fatal.

The shooting came up so quickly that even the occupants of the office hardly realized what had happened. The only persons in the room were Mr. J. B. Gilbert, bookkeeper for the concern and Mr. V. J. Blow, the well known stage man who had been conversing with Loving and Rose on business.

The statements of the two witnesses to the shooting are about the same, but Loving would make no statement, saying that he desired to say nothing until the matter came regularly up for investigation.

First on the Scene.

The first person to reach the room after the shooting was Mr. J. M. Quinn, manager of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., who has an office on the second floor of the building. Mr. Quinn was in the office of Attorney Worten and hearing three pistol shots ran down stairs. Just as he reached the ground floor he met Dr. C. E. Purcell, a specialist who has an office on the second floor. Dr. Purcell and Mr. Quinn passed Mr. Loving in the hall just outside the office and as they passed him heard him remark that he "had to do it, had to do it," and with that he went into an adjoining office.

Dr. Purcell and Mr. Quinn entered the room, which was vacant, but saw nothing and rushing into the second office, the private consultation room, found Rose lying with his face on the floor. He was gasping and was in his shirt sleeves. The gentlemen rolled him over and made a hasty examination, opening his shirt.

Wounds Pronounced Fatal.

By this time Drs. H. H. Griffith, H. P. Sights and Robert Sory arrived, followed by other doctors who also examined the wounds and pronounced them fatal.

So far gone was Rose that the physicians thought it unnecessary to take him to the office for an operation. He was unconscious from the start, never speaking a word after the shooting.

Had No Weapon.

The first witnesses to arrive in the room made an examination of Rose's clothing and failed to find any weapon on him. His coat was found lying on a desk and he had nothing at all in the way of a weapon.

Loving Made Statement to Mr. A. B. Smith.

Mr. A. B. Smith, of the A. B. Smith Lumber company, has an office on the same floor, only two or three doors from the office of the Kentucky Mill and Lumber company, where the tragedy occurred. When he heard the shots he rushed out into the hall, and met Loving coming out of the door.

He had the pistol in his hand and said that he "had to do it."

The statement he made to Mr. Smith was that for several days past, ever since Rose was forced out of the company, Rose had been "bull ragging" him and threatening to "fix him."

This morning, Loving declared, Rose returned and renewed the threats. He, Loving, fearing that he would carry them out, went home and got his pistol and took it with him to the office.

One of the first men he saw was Rose. Rose again began threatening to "fix him." According to Loving's statement Rose put his hand back to his rear pocket, and Loving, fearing that he intended to carry out his threat, drew his pistol and opened fire.

Those who heard the shots say that they were rather slow and deliberate as if fired by someone excited, and taking careful aim.

Mr. V. J. Blow Was Present.

Mr. V. J. Blow was next seen. "I was conversing with Mr. Loving on private matters of a business nature and Rose walked in. I anticipated trouble and did not want to be present and hear what was said. As I started to go Rose asked me to remain; that he wanted to see me and wanted me to hear what he had to say. I remained and Loving walked out. Rose and I talked a short time and then Loving returned. I got up and left the room and about the time I was in the act of passing through the door, heard the shots."

Mr. Blow thinks he heard but two shots but says there might have been three fired.

Loving Surrendered.

The office was filled within a short time with spectators and after the excitement had somewhat subsided, Mr. Loving went to the police station and surrendered to Chief of Police James Collins.

The Bookkeeper Talks.

A Sun reporter interviewed the witnesses, some of whom were at first too excited to give a very coherent account of what happened.

Mr. J. B. Gilbert, bookkeeper for the concern stated:

"I was in my office here and Mr. Loving and Mr. Blow were in the private room conversing with the door shut—not partially shut. Pretty soon Mr. Rose walked in and began to tell me his troubles and what he intended to do. He stated he was going to sue me and the entire bunch of men connected with the lumber company. I said nothing to him and he walked over to the door, knocked and pushed it open. As he did so Mr. Blow arose and started to leave, but Rose asked him to remain, saying that he wanted to talk to him.

Loving left the room and Rose and Blow talked a short time. Pretty soon Loving walked in again and Blow left the room. He had gotten only a short distance before the shots were fired, I think no further than the door.

"I saw Rose as he entered the room place his hand on his back pocket, but I heard none of the language used and do not know anything about what provoked the shooting. I do not think I heard more than two shots but may be mistaken. After the shooting Mr. Loving came out of the room and stated he had to do it, still having the pistol in his hand. I realized that something awful had happened, seeing Rose lying on his face where he had fallen, and following Loving out into the hall took his pistol away, locked it up in the safe for safe keeping."

A Little Different Version.

Mr. Charles Crow, an employee of the company in the capacity of a lumber measurer and traveling man, was sitting in the outside office when Rose entered. His statement is as follows:

"I was seated near a window when Rose entered. He seemed excited and the first thing he said on entering the office was, 'I understand you are now a member of the firm of the Kentucky Mill and Lumber Co.?' This to Mr. Gilbert. 'If this be so then you can pay me that $15 you owe me.' I supposed he meant that Mr. Gilbert pay him $15 which he claimed he drew out of the bank at Memphis when employed by Rose at that city."

"Mr. Gilbert asked him what fifteen dollars and he replied, 'that balance you drew out of the bank at Memphis.'"

"Well, I will pay it, then," Mr. Gilbert remarked, and with that went on about his work.

"Where is Loving? I want to see him," Rose suddenly demanded, and as he did so, made for the door. Mr. Gilbert informed him that he was in the next room and Rose opened the door. Mr. Loving then went out of the room and Rose talked in rather an excited manner to Mr. Blow. Pretty soon Loving came in again, and I saw that he meant business, and left the room. I saw Mr. Blow dodge under Mr. Loving and Rose ran into the corner of the room near a desk. I ran out of the room and when I gained the hall heard the pistol shots."

Rose Came From Livingston.

Mr. Rose came to Paducah from Carversville, Livingston county, where he was born and raised. He had been a resident of Paducah for more than ten years, and during the past several years lived at the residence of Coroner James Crow. He married in Livingston county and his wife died four years ago. He leaves a child, lone Rose, age 6, two brothers, one residing in Arkansas and another in Livingston county and one sister, whose residence is unknown.

Coroner Crow stated that Rose so far as he knows was a peaceable man.

Coroner Crow after Rose had expired, had the remains removed to the Paducah Undertaking establishment on South Third street, where they were embalmed and prepared for burial.

Situation Not So Bad Today.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 3.—Yesterday's reports of the fever situation showed an increase in the number of deaths, but the health authorities confessed to no alarm over the situation, and said that more fatalities were to be looked for from the fact that in the past three or four days there has been a sufficient increase in the number of cases to warrant the expectation of heavier mortality.

The high temperature succeeded by the heavy precipitation and cooler weather produced climatic conditions also favorable to the fatalities.

Practically all the deaths were among the Italians.

There was no dissent among the authorities from the view expressed by Health Officer Kohuke, that conditions were hopeful.

The question of whether or not the federal control of the situation ought to be invited is still discussed but unless graver conditions arise it is not regarded as likely there will be any movement in that direction.

No apprehension exists of any serious results from trouble that has arisen on the Mississippi-Louisiana border over the enforcement of the Mississippi quarantine, and it is thought that the Mississippi soldiers who have been freely coming across the Louisiana line will hereafter be required to keep on their side of the border and thus all further possibilities of clashes will be removed.

Postmaster Woodward received a letter from the railway mail service at Atlanta saying that Greenville, Miss., had notified that office that hereafter it will receive no letters mailed from New Orleans that have not been disinfected and that under no circumstances will it receive newspapers whether disinfected or not.

Postmaster Woodward talked over with marine hospital surgeons the question of fumigation of mails, and was told that having accepted the mosquito theory, the surgeons considered the disinfection of the mail utterly unnecessary.

The question of whether or not the federal control of the situation ought to be invited is still discussed but unless graver conditions arise it is not regarded as likely there will be any movement in that direction.

Cairo Quarantined.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 3.—J. A. Egan, of the state board of health, arrived in Cairo yesterday from Memphis where he has been investigating the yellow fever conditions, and after a lengthy conference with Acting Mayor Walter Wood, Alderman Thomas A. Fuller, chairman of the local board of health, and Dr. J. C. Sullivan, member of the state board of health, decided that a strict quarantine was necessary and accordingly issued the following notice effective at once:

The state has not quarantined against the entire south but only against the infected municipalities. However, no passengers from Louisiana, Florida or Alabama or any other southern states in which the yellow fever has or may occur, will be allowed to enter the state unless provided with a health certificate.

The Shreveport Case.

Shreveport, La., Aug. 3.—An official report issued by the board of health last night on the case of yellow fever at Detention camp, states that he is considered convalescent. There are no new cases of fever and

STARTLING FACTS MAY BE BROUGHT OUT

H. A. Rose Had Card Ready to Publish Charging Loving With Forgery.

Found in His Pocket By the Coroner—Bookkeeper Gives a New Version.

This afternoon the authorities are working on some new clues which may place the shooting of Herbert A. Rose by H. H. Loving this morning in the Fraternity building, in an entirely different light.

A statement made by the bookkeeper of the lumber company and sworn to indicates that Loving deliberately walked into the room with the pistol in his hand and began shooting, despite the fact that Rose was trying to get out of the way.

It is also said that Rose had in his pocket a statement which he intended to have published in the newspapers today exposing Loving and others who had accused him of stealing lumber from them.

Coroner James Crow found the signed paper in Rose's pocket, it is understood. Coroner Crow is out of the city this afternoon.

Members of Mr. Crow's family sent for a reporter, and said that they wanted to make a few statements in regard to the case. They said that during Rose's residence in the family he was a good, law-abiding man and not addicted to the use of vulgarities or profanity. He felt hurt over the publication in the paper about his business affairs, and had written out a card he intended having published today in which he would charge Loving and other members of the firm with crooked dealing and other things. The card was very severe and also charged Loving with not having put any money into the company.

When the card was sketched out in no suspicious cases.

NEW CASES REPORTED TODAY.

New Orleans, Aug. 3.—Several new cases of yellow fever are reported today and every effort is now being made to clean up the city, especially the foreign quarters. The foreigners object to the health officers entering their houses, but are gradually beginning to see that it is necessary.

Two new cases are reported in Mississippi today but none in Louisiana outside of New Orleans.

Had 240 Refugees.

St. Louis, Aug. 3.—A Cotton Belt train arrived early this morning, nine hours late, with 240 yellow fever refugees aboard. They were for the most part from points in Northern Louisiana and Southern Arkansas.

A train isolated.

New Orleans, Aug. 3.—Two cases of yellow fever were reported up to noon today. A train load of passengers on the Iron Mountain was held up in Concordia Parish, and will be removed from any habitation for sometime. Passengers are loud in their telegraphic complaints and have neither food nor water. Efforts are being made to move the train.

Fever On Three Sides.

Monroe, La., Aug. 3.—With yellow fever on three sides, this city has put militia and armed guards on every road leading into the town.

Attorney Eaton's Story.

Attorney W. V. Eaton, who has been Rose's regular attorney, made some unexpected disclosures this afternoon in regard to Rose's intentions when he entered Loving's office. Attorney Eaton's statement indicates that Rose had gone down to secure Loving's signature to a card vindicating him, Rose, of dishonesty.

"Mr. Rose was a regular client of mine," Attorney Eaton stated, "and came to my office this morning with a written card. He told me it would expose Loving in a forgery charge in connection with a note he has in bank. He told me that he and Mr. Loving had about come to some understanding and that he thought Loving would sign a card to be published in which he, Rose, would be vindicated. 'In case he does not sign it,'

Bookkeeper Makes Startling Statement.

This forenoon late County Attorney Eugene Graves issued summons for the several witnesses to the shooting to appear at the city hall and answer questions.

Mr. J. B. Gilbert, the bookkeeper, was the first witness to be examined. He was excited this morning when interviewed by reporters but had quieted down considerably when the attorney got hold of him. His statement sworn to before the county attorney according to Attorney Graves is substantially as follows:

"I was working at my desk which is located near the west wall of the rear room in the suit of offices. When Mr. Loving returned after he left on Rose's arrival, I noticed his hand was held stiffly at his side. I did not see what he had, and in fact did not see the pistol until he ran out in the hall and I took it away from him."

"I spoke to him calling 'Mr. Loving,' but he paid no attention to me and opening the door started into the room where Blow and Rose were talking. I saw him raise his right arm, but his body being between me and whatever he held in the hand, I could not see the object. As he entered the room both Mr. Blow and Rose started up. Rose started eastward corner of the room and Loving turned east. Blow jumped out and struck at whatever Loving had in his hand but missed, and ducking under his arm ran out of the office."

"I heard a shot and by that time had started around my desk. I was badly frightened and excited and ran out into the hall about the same time Blow gained the passageway. Loving ran out after us, after firing the other shot, I hearing only one shot after the first. I saw the pistol in his hand and took it away."

Mr. Blow and Charles Crow are other witnesses who will be examined this afternoon by County Attorney Graves. Attorney Graves intends to probe the matter to the bottom and will be present at the inquest tomorrow morning to interrogate the witnesses.

The Raylets who penetrated the Brahic, Frakes and South armor went up against it good and strong yesterday afternoon at Wallace park when Big Wiley Platt started pushing the pellets across the rubber. The Hoosier aggregation of pennant aspirants were hopeful of four straight but they didn't get them.

The Indians played fast and furious ball and turned loose the ginger can, even in practice.

The Indians scored in the third fifth and sixth innings, making five in the sixth.

In the third inning Lloyd hit the ball to the club house and it rolled under the steps into a hole, the "Chief" making the tour of the sacks with ease before the sphere was recovered. Three singles followed this, but the Indians were unable to score on them.

In the fifth inning Land reached first on an error of Klipp's and Platt singled. Land went to third on the single and Platt stole second. In attempting to catch Platt at second Rosson threw wild and Land scored on the error.

In the sixth inning Taylor singled and Brahic sacrificed him to second. Taylor stole third and Potts got a walk. Potts started to steal and Downing threw to second. Potts ran back and Taylor worked for the plate. Klipp had the ball and while chasing down Potts Taylor scored. In trying to catch Potts at first Klipp threw and struck the runner in the head, he making safe. Lloyd hit to McAndrews but Potts had a good start and McAndrews' attempt to catch him at second failed. Klipp whipped the ball to Meyers and caught Lloyd at first, however. Land singled down the left field line and McNamara allowed it to get through him. Potts scoring and Land making third base. Platt got struck by a ball and Gilligan took a walk. With three men on the bases, McClain hit for three sacks, but himself died on third on Bohannon's out from Bell to Meyers.

The Raylets failed to do anything in the ninth and the Indians walked off the field with the first victory of the home series.

The Paducah champions held Benton down until the last half of the ninth inning when they secured three "Texas leaguers" off Block's delivery which, with an error, gave them the victory. THIRD TRIAL

Resulted in an Acquittal of Alleged Murderer.

Mankato Minn., Aug. 3.—The jury in the third trial of Dr. George R. Koch, charged with the murder of Dr. L. A. Gebhardt, his brother dentist at New Ulm, Minn., on November 1, 1904, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The case has been a sensational one and has held the close attention of people of the northwest. Gebhardt was found lying in a pool of blood on the floor of his office at night, his head crushed by blows of a hammer.

The most important witness in the trials was Asa P. Brooks, the editor of the New Ulm Review, who heard something in Dr. Gebhardt's office which is directly over the Review office and ran up the side stairs to ascertain the cause. Not being able to make an entrance, he peeped through the transom and saw the murderer standing over Gebhardt's body.

Brooks testified that although the murderer turned and looked at him he could not recognize the man but swore it was not Koch. The rest of the evidence was circumstantial.

Koch did not seem unusually perturbed on account of the murder. He continued his practice at New Ulm, was present at the inquest and sang at the funeral.

Circumstantial evidence, however, strengthened by the knowledge of jealousy alleged to have resulted from business rivalry and love affairs, caused suspicion to be directed toward him and he was finally indicted. The first two trials resulted in disagreement.

MANY ARMED MEN

Are Found On All the Trains in the South.

Passengers who arrive from the south by every train report that whatever the true situation is in regard to danger of a spread of yellow fever, there is certainly general confusion and excitement.

On every train there are armed men, and men armed to the teeth line up beside the trains at every station and see that no one gets off. The farther south they get the worse it becomes. It is harder to get out of some of the towns than to get in and either one, it is said, is hard enough. Some of the towns are bottled up until it is almost impossible to get into and out of them.

She leaves a husband, two sons and a daughter. The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Jones cemetery in the county.

GUIDE BOOK FAD THE LATEST.

"It Depends on the Line" Essential to a Fisherman's Collection.

The latest fad is guide-book collecting, and connoisseurs claim that the finest specimens are the railway guides of 1905. An unusually neat and at the same time instructive book is one entitled "It Depends on the Line," published by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway. The cover design is a colored half-tone that would look well framed. The information is mostly about fishing, and it is so concisely and entertainingly written that fishermen of either the amateur or expert class can get a thrill and instruction at the same time while reading it—and look at fine pictures while doing it.

It contains all the facts that any one would want to know in advance about the wonderful lake country from the Fox Lake district in northern Illinois to the numerous bodies of water that make the map of northern Wisconsin look like a bad case of smallpox. The most famous fishing district is the Mincogan country, which is easily reached by a night and a forenoon travel, and the book tells just how to do it and how to find muskellonge, pike, bass, pickerel, landlocked salmon, trout, etc.

License Inspector to Swoor Out Warrants Against Dog Owners.

License Inspector Ed. Rivers has all the books furnished him by the police with names of unlicensed dogs, and is making out an indexed list. He will this week complete his list and issue warrants against the owners. He will not pay them a visit as heretofore, but will go immediately into court as dog owners have had ample time in which to pay license and have received the due warning. License Inspector Rivers intends to make things busy in police court next week.

POTTERY TRUST

Will Not Affect This Part of the Country.

Mr. J. A. Bauer, who owns one of the largest potteries in the south, has heard nothing about the big "pottery trust" talked of.

So far as known it affects nothing in this part of the country.

A dispatch says of the supposed trust:

"East Liverpool, Ohio, is the center of the manufacture of pottery and 43 factories are located there, giving employment to 20,000 men. A movement has recently been started by some of the large firms, together with several Philadelphia capitalists, to combine the pottery interests and 75 per cent. of the producers have already been won over to the project. The new concern will be capitalized on a $40,000,000 basis, and the plants of the potters will be controlled, and a raise of 12 1/2 to 15 per cent will follow. Salesmen will be dispensed with, and the trust will erect a big building as a sample department, and buyers will make their selections there. Those who do not come east, it is planned, are to buy from jobbers, who will, of course, be controlled by the trust."

Miniature Race War.

Henderson, Ky., Aug. 3.—A race war has been brewing in Audubon, part of the recently annexed territory to the city, for several days, and police officers have been stationed in that neighborhood to prevent any trouble. Audubon people have always opposed the residence of negroes within its limits and have none residing there. A few days ago the street cleaning department sent a gang of men, composed mostly of negroes, to Audubon to clean the streets. This did not meet with the approval of some of the half-grown boys, and when the matter was reported to the city officials rigid steps were taken at once to prevent trouble. Wiser heads and cooler counsel prevailed, and it is believed that the city authorities will be allowed to complete the work mapped out. The older people of that district do not side with the youths' impetuosity.

Killed Over a Debt.

Spring Creek, Ky., Aug. 3.—Felix Hoskins, a wealthy and prominent lumber merchant of this place, was shot and killed by Nick Garrison, his cousin, also a prominent lumber dealer. Garrison made his escape to the mountains. Garrison lived at Spring Creek and Hoskins at Hyden. Both have many friends and much excitement prevails.

The trouble came up over Hoskins suing Garrison for a debt. A large posse is in pursuit of Garrison.

The Sun yesterday of the building

Daily Thought.

We learn wisdom from failure more than from success; we often discover what will do by finding out what will not do.—Dr. Smiles.

CLEAN UP PADUCAH.

An ineffectual controversy is on regarding the causes of yellow fever. There is no occasion for it, especially at this time. The malarial is bad enough, no matter what its causes.

Science in recent years has demonstrated that mosquitoes—and possibly flies and other insects—aid in disseminating yellow fever. Just as effectively as it has demonstrated that filth, bad drainage, the putrefaction of animal matter and similar things cause it, insects do not cause it; they merely spread it. Hence one of the first things to do, as shown in Havana's experience, is to enforce sanitary regulations and get rid of mosquitoes.

From Louisville to Memphis even the smaller towns are making vigorous efforts to clean up—all except Paducah. In many of the villages proclamations have been issued by the authorities to clean up, cut grass and weeds, fill up ponds of stagnant water, pour oil on lakes and other possible breeding places of mosquitoes and other insects, and strew disinfectants where they are needed.

We regret that nothing of the kind has taken place here, although the whole south is in a flutter of fear and excitement over a dreadful disease which once killed thousands, and can do it again. It is well so to cause needless alarm. But it is wise to be prepared for any emergency. The city authorities should have the gutters cleaned, the alleys inspected, and the city put in as clean and sanitary a condition as possible. It will at least do no harm.

For the benefit of the general public the following article from an exchange is printed, showing the places among which are to be found the numerous breeding holes of mosquitoes and flies at nearly every home, and which should at once be done away with:

- "In some place of standing water;
- "In a cesspool;
- "A sewer inlet;
- "A rainwater barrel;
- "A horse trough;
- "A roof or gutter that is clogged;
- "An empty bottle;
- "An old tin can;
- "Broken crockery that holds water;
- "A water pan for dog, cat or chick on;
- "A water receptacle for a grindstone;
- "A hole in a tree;
- "A watering pan for birds;
- "A garden fountain;

"Any place, in fact, where water stands for five days or more. One tomato can in a shady spot, with water in it has been found to breed sufficient mosquitos to keep a family unhappy all summer."

The following advice is given for preventing the promulgation of mosquitos when such conditions exist:

"Clean out every place where water stands.

"So dispose of old tin cans, bottles or what not that rain cannot possibly be retained.

"Watch your roof gutters.

"Empty your rain barrel of water every week or screen it closely with fine meshed wire on top.

"Change the water every day in a drinking pan for dog, cat or bird.

"Watch the watering trough near your stable.

"Fill a hole in a tree with soil packed tight or with cement.

"In other words, get rid of, or coat with kerosene, all stagnant standing water, and you will get rid of mosquitos.

"If you have a playing fountain put little fish like minnows or gold fish, in the water and they will eat the mosquito larvae.

"If you have a sluggish brook or a stagnant pond near your house spray kerosene or coal oil on the surface, this makes it impossible for the 'wigglers' to breathe when they come to the surface, and they die. The coal oil application is only necessary at the edges and is good only so long as the oil film is unbroken.

"These remedies are all simple and practical. The application of them entails some trouble, but it is slight compared to the good results which will follow, both as to comfort and health. If some energetic person in each neighborhood would inaugurate the work and encourage his neighbors to unite with him in it, the movement would soon take an organized shape and prove effective in its results."

Why should the rabid element of democracy be so wrought up over Caleb Powers? He has been in jail for over five years, is still there, and says he would not get away if he could. The most he asks is a fair trial. There is no way he can pack the jury or buy up witnesses by promising them money, positions or immunity from punishment for crimes of which they may not be guilty, but of which they might be "proven guilty" as was Powers. If these democrats so willed, No. Caleb Powers is safe behind prison bars and can do no harm. Judge Hargis, however, is still free as a bird. He seems to be a privileged character.

A number of enterprising insurance commissioners invested with considerable power in their respective states are meeting in Chicago to start a general investigation of all the big insurance companies. Great guns! Hasn't disinfecting the Equitable been sufficient punishment for a helpless public?

Ambitious candidates for democratic city nominations are to hold nightly speakings. It is not known what the issue will be, but the average democratic statesman in Paducah seldom reaches a higher plane of intellectuality than the cow question, so it must be the cow question.

The gallant beam of Paducah should make the best of what little time remains, for next week the soldiers come and the home boy will no longer be in demand. He will be only a looker on in Venice.

Keep thy lamps lit and so avoid litigations.

FORMER PADUCAH PASTOR

Is Complimented by Knoxville, Tenn., Paper.

Rev. G. W. Perryman, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church in Paducah, has proven very successful in Knoxville, Tenn., and the Journal-Tribune says:

"The different churches in and near Fountain City have arranged for a great tent meeting commencing August 20. The committee of arrangements have decided on erecting a large tent about one mile this side of Fountain City and near the ear line, so people from this city can attend the meeting. When the question of who would be invited to do the preaching came before the large committee, Rev. G. W. Perryman, D. D., pastor of Centennial Baptist church, this city, was selected. He has great gifts as an evangelist and his great audiences will testify. His large auditorium is always crowded and about seventy people have joined his church. The people of that community are expecting a great revival. Hundreds from this city will attend no doubt."

AGENT LUCAS

Filed a Large Number of Suits Herefore He Left Hoptown.

The actual number of suits filed against Christian county citizens for alleged back taxes by Revenue Agent Frank A. Lucas was one hundred and fifty-eight and the amounts sued for range from $700 to $10,000, says the Hopkinsville New Era. In all these suits taxes for five years back are prayed for, although in numbers of instances the actual note sued on has not been in existence for anything like this long. This is done for the purpose of catching any other note which may have been in effect during this time and which was overlooked for any reason, it being up to the defendant of these suits to produce the proof of what he actually had during these years.

Mr. Lucas left Hopkinsville Tuesday, but will probably be back next Monday to again confer with the parties in regard to the suits.

Little Doing at the Camp.

There is very little going on today at Camp Yelver, as the state encampment grounds are to be called. The crematory is now being built and will be ready about Saturday. Adj. Gen. Haly is expected Sunday, as is Lieut. Beckham, from the army.

No Conference Held.

No conference over the telephone franchise was held by Mayor Yelver and Solicitor Ed. H. Puryear yesterday. Mayor Yelver was busy in the afternoon when the solicitor was at leisure, and Solicitor Puryear was busy when the mayor was at leisure. They will try to get together this week.

M. WITTE DENIES THAT INTERVIEW

Came to Conclude Peace, If Possible.

Did Not Say Japan's Demands Were Intolerable—Rais Stops Military Operations.

RUSSIA BEING REINFORCED

London, Aug. 3.—Bidding for the construction of an electric tramway system at St. Petersburg, it is learned has been limited to Belgium, German and French firms. American and English companies are excluded on account of the pro-Japanese tendencies of these countries. The American construction companies objected to being excluded, it is said.

The Russian Idea.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 3.—The Moscow Gazette says the only acceptable condition of peace is the evacuation of Manchuria and Korea by the Japanese.

Rais Interfere With Operations.

Cologne, Aug. 3.—A Telegram to the Gazette from Guntchling, Manchuria says that persistent rains have rendered military operations impossible. Reinforcements to the Russian army are constantly arriving at the front.

Emperor Wants Peace.

Turin, Italy, Aug. 3.—Count Lanza Di Busca, Italian ambassador to Germany, just arrived here from Berlin, says the emperor is anxious for peace.

To Govern Finland.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 3.—The Czar has decided to establish a slice of royalty for the government of Finland. The method of conducting affairs in Finland will be similar to that which prevailed in the far east the time the war began.

The Czar Reported Ill.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—A statement is published here that there is apprehension in St. Petersburg in regard to the health of the Czar. It is said he is unable to sleep and has suffered several painful attacks of heart trouble. He has become much thinner.

Witte Repudiates Interview.

New York, Aug. 3.—Sergius Witte, the Russian peace plenipotentiary, on his arrival here yesterday afternoon, emphatically denied having said that Japan's peace terms were intolerable. He also denied positively that he had predicted that the conference would break up in a week.

Witte in an interview said: "It is in compliance with the American people's desire for peace, of which President Roosevelt was the authorized exponent, that his majesty, the czar, has empowered me to come hither and ascertain the conditions which our gallant adversary deems necessary and adequate as a basis for peace negotiations."

"I need hardly point out that it is my ardent desire that the two chivalrous foes who first became acquainted on the field of battle, may have found in each others sterling qualities motives powerful enough to cultivate that acquaintanceship until it ripens into lasting friendship."

"Meanwhile, however, terms offered must first be ascertained, weighed and judged admissible by Russia before she can proceed to formal negotiations. Hitherto as you are aware, it was customary in cases like this to settle all such preliminaries before the meeting of the plenipotentiaries, whose task it was to come to the final agreement on the matters under discussion."

"Now the very fact that his majesty, the Czar, consented to take a course involving a departure from this ancient diplomatic usage and to appoint a mission to learn the nature of our brave enemy's terms, is an eloquent token of friendly feeling which he and his subjects continued to cherish towards the people of the United States. I say continue to cherish, because at no epoch in our history have our traditional relations with this great republic been other than cordial."

"And now I should like to say, aye, and to prove to your people who live less in the past than in the present and future, that it is the fervent wish of the emperor and the people of Russia further to strengthen ties of friendship which have hitherto subsisted between the two nations."

"It is in virtue of that the sin-

The bond of Contractor Harry Baldwin to insure that he will keep the sidewalks on Broadway and Clark street contracts in good repair of five years, was accepted. He gave the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Co., of Baltimore his bond.

The bond offered by Contractor Baldwin for his second street pavements in front of the market house was not accepted, the work never having been finished. The board ordered repairs made and the contract has not fully been filled, the members claim.

Langstaff-Orme Mfg. Co., was granted permission to extend a fence through Clark street hollow to the Marine ways.

All other business was referred until the next meeting which will be called Friday or Saturday when Secretary Saunders Fowler returns from Cincinnati.

cere desire that his majesty, the czar, waiving all other consideration and has unhesitatingly accepted the cordial invitation of your first citizen and genial leader. And if my mission should prove in all other respects barren and the endeavor to find common basis for peace negotiations should fail for the time being, the signal proof of friendship given by his majesty, the czar, and Russian nation would still stand out as memorable event, fraught I trust with far reaching beneficent results to the two great peoples of the west and the east."

CENTRAL CITY NEWS

GOOD PIECE OF DETECTIVE
WORK DONE BY THE TOWN MARSHAL.

Subscriptions Being Made to Y. M.
C. A. Building—Commercial Club Organized.

Central City, Ky., Aug. 3.—Marshall Langley did a nice piece of detective work here. Two aged widows had lost a watch valued as an heirloom and which was kept in the bottom of a trunk for safety. Recently they missed it and communicated the fact to the marshal, at the same time telling him who they suspected. With this slight clue he started out and soon had the thief and the watch, as well as several articles that the same party had stolen at different times from the ladies. In justice to the widows, who dislike notoriety, as well as sympathy for the wife of the thief, the names are withheld.

Messrs. Caselder & Lanham are asking the citizens for subscription to the Y. M. C. A. building and meeting with fair success. The boy's branch of the association is active in the work too, and propose to raise $100.

An immense crowd is expected here Sunday to attend the dedication of the new Masonic hall, and to hear Governor Hob Taylor's lecture.

The citizens here "got a move on" at last and organized a Commercial club with the following officers: R. O. Pace, president; P. K. Soultzberg, secretary; A. Christian, assistant secretary; T. Q. Fortney, treasurer, and elected a board of nine directors, with J. S. Hobson as chairman. The club will meet again next Friday night to complete the organization and all are requested to attend.

"Drys" have gained nothing by carrying the election. An attempt was made three weeks ago to hold a local option election, but when the poll was opened no ballots could be found and the election had to be declared off. It was asserted by the local option advocates that the ballots were stolen by whiskey sympathizers after they were sent from Hartford, the county seat.

Hangs Himself.

Cloyd's Landing, Ky., Aug. 3.—At Marrowbone, this county, Mrs. Mary Shaw, wife of William Shaw, committed suicide by hanging herself with a rope to the top of a barn, where her lifeless body was found swinging by one of her small children.

The dead woman was 50 years of age, and highly respected. The cause of her suicide is said to have been the infidelity of her husband, who deserted her some six months ago and eloped with a wealthy widow, 65 years of age, whom he in turn deserted, and who has returned home a wiser, but much poorer woman. The whereabouts of William Shaw are not known, and four small children are left destitute.

Daughter of a General.

Cloyd's Landing, Ky., Aug. 3.—Preslin Van Noy, of Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Jane Everett Hardin, daughter of General P. Watt Hardin, of Harrodsburg, were married at Salem, Va. They will remain in Virginia a month after which they will make their home at Cambridge.

Morgan's Men.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 3.—The reunion of Morgan's men will be held at Park Hill August 16. All survivors of the famous command and other Confederate veterans are included in the call.

Took Morphine.

J. Neal, of Sixth and Jefferson streets, formerly employed by the Palmer Transfer company as a driver, is alleged to have taken ten grains of morphine at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon with suicidal intent. Dr. H. B. Griffith was called and soon had the man out of danger. After taking the poison Neal, who is said to have been drinking heavily, informed his wife and the doctor was summoned.

CROWD AT GRACEY

DARK TOBACCO PLANTERS HAVING A BIG TIME.

Enthusiastic Meeting at Mayfield Tuesday—The Mayfield Tobacco Market.

Gracey, Ky., Aug. 3.—A big meeting is being held here today in the interest of the Dark Tobacco District and their friends from all over this region are enjoying a splendid banquet feast.

Among the speakers invited are Congressman Owsley Stanley, John Wesley Gaines and Ollie M. James, Felix G. Ewing, chairman of the planters' executive committee and Charles P. Warfield, the general salesman.

Mayfield Tobacco Market.

Tobacco in the various warehouses in Mayfield this week brought better prices than last week. However the buyers only admit they were more anxious for it and bidding was more spirited. We understand there are only about 500 hogsheds of unsold tobacco in Mayfield outside of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association. The association has about 1200 hogsheds and it is the best grade. The various warehouses sold 11 hogsheds of hogs this week at an average of $4.16 1-11 per hundred and 256 hogsheds of leaf at an average of $5.60 per hundred.—Mayfield Monitor.

"Tobacco Day" in Mayfield.

Mayfield, Ky., Aug. 3.—Tuesday afternoon was the biggest "tobacco day" in the history of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association in Graves county.

The meeting was opened by Chairman J. W. Fisher who made a short speech. It was then addressed by Mr. Hiram Finley, of Calloway, and Squire Holliday, of Fulton. These gentlemen made good talks after which Mr. C. P. Warfield, general salesman of the organization, and principal speaker of the day, was introduced and for one hour and thirty minutes he had the undivided attention of those present. He asked all who would pledge themselves to not raise any tobacco in 1906 and the entire audience gave the pledge.

POLICE WITHDRAWN

From Wagons of Chicago Houses That Have Been Strike-Bound.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Police have been moved from the wagons of many of the firms that have been strike-bound for months. Correspondingly many union drivers were restored to their old places. The Employers' Association, following the determination of the Lumbermen's Association to reinstate union teamsters in a body, has decided to lift the ban placed on all strikers a week ago. The action was taken despite the fact that the coal teamsters' union has ignored the employers' threat not to rehire any of the strikers until all should vote to call the strike off. A boycott against five big coal companies is still on.

No. 7 of the Series

The woman stood with her hand buried in her bosom and the same deadly smile on her thin lips.

"You will ruin no more lives as you have ruined mine. You will wring no more hearts as you wring mine. I will free the world of a poisonous thing. Take that, you monster—take that—and that—and that!"

She had drawn a little gleaming revolver and emptied barrel after barrel into Milverton's body, the muzzle with in two feet of his shirt front. He shrunk away and then fell forward upon the table, coughing furiously and clanking among the papers. Then he staggered to his feet, received another shot and rolled upon the floor. "You've done me," he cried and lay still. "The woman looked at him intently and ground her heel into his upturned face. She looked again, but there was no sound or movement. I heard a sharp rustle, the night air blew into the heated room and the avenger was gone."

No interference upon our part could have saved the man from his fate, but as the woman poured bullet after bullet into Milverton's shrinking body I was about to spring out when I felt Holmes' cold, strong grasp upon my wrist. I understood the whole argument of that firm, restraining grasp—that it was no affair of ours; that justice had overtaken a villain; that we had our own duties and our own ob-listened intently. All was absolute silence behind us. We had shaken off our pursuers and were safe.

We had breakfasted and were smoking our morning pipe on the day after the remarkable experience which I have recorded when Mr. Lestrade of Scotland Yard, very solemn and impressive, was ushered into our modest sitting room.

"Good morning, Mr. Holmes," said he; "good morning. May I ask if you are very busy just now?"

"Not too busy to listen to you."

"I thought that perhaps if you had nothing particular on hand you might care to assist us in a most remarkable case which occurred only last night at Hampstead."

"Dear me," said Holmes. "What was that?"

"A murder—a most dramatic and remarkable murder. I know how keen you are upon these things, and I would like it as a great favor if you would step down to Appleshire Towers and give us the benefit of your advice. It is no ordinary crime. We have had our eyes upon this Mr. Milverton for some time, and, between ourselves, he was a bit of a villain. He is known to have held papers which he used for blackmailing purposes. These papers have all been burned by the murderers. No article of value was taken, as it is probable that the criminals were men of good position whose sole object was to prevent social exposure."

"Criminals?" said Holmes. "Plural?"

"Yes, there were two of them. They were as nearly as possible captured red-handed. We have their footmarks, we have their description. It's ten to one that we trace them. The first fellow was a bit too noisy, but the second finger to his lips as we turned away from the window.

"FARMER'S FRIEND"

Alleged to Have Organized a Fake Company to Defraud.

St. Paul, Minn., August 2.—John C. Hanley, publisher of the Alliance Advocate, and well known throughout the west as a leader in the Farmer's Alliance, and other political movements, was arrested yesterday by United States marshals on the charge of using the mails in connection with a scheme to defraud.

The charge is that in the advertising matter sent through the mails for the purpose of selling stock in the Consolidated Farm and Ranch company, Hanley represented that the company had acquired the property of the Montana Co-operative Ranch company now in the hands of a receiver which representation is claimed to be false.

The Consolidated company was organized a few months ago under the laws of South Dakota, with Hanley as president, and capitalized at $350,000. The government claims that the new company has practically no assets and that in order to induce investors to buy stock, the promoters pretended to have acquired the property of the old company.

"YOU COULDN'T COME ANY OTHER TIME RH?"

jects, which were not to be lost sight of. But hardly had the woman rushed from the room when Holmes with swift, silent steps was over at the other door. He turned the key in the lock. At the same instant we heard voices in the house and the sound of hurrying feet. The revolver shots had roused the household. With perfect coolness Holmes slipped across to the safe, filled his two arms with bundles of letters and poured them all into the fire. Again and again he did it, until the safe was empty.

Some one turned the handle and beat upon the outside of the door. Holmes looked swiftly round. The letter which had been the messenger of death for Milverton lay, all mottled with his blood, upon the table. Holmes tossed it in among the blazing papers. Then he drew the key from the outer door, passed through after me and locked it on the outside. "This way, Watson," said he, "we can scale the garden wall in this direction."

I could not have believed that an alarm could have spread so swiftly. Looking back, the huge house was one blaze of light. The front door was open, and flames were rushing down the drive. The whole garden was alive with people, and one fellow raised a view hellos as we emerged from the veranda and followed hard at our heels. Holmes seemed to know the grounds perfectly, and he threaded his way swiftly among a plantation of small trees, close at his heels and our foremost pursuer panting behind us. It was a six foot wall which barred our path, but he sprang to the top and over. "As I did the same I felt the hand of the man behind me grab at my ankle, but I kicked myself free and scrambled over a grassy sward on the other side. I fell upon my face among some bushes, but Holmes had me on my feet in an instant, and together we dashed away across the huge expanse of Hampstead Heath. We had run two miles, I suppose, before Holmes at last halted and was caught by the under gardener and only got away after a struggle. He was a middle sized, strongly built man—square jaw, thick neck, mustache, a mask over his eyes."

"That's rather vague," said Sherlock Holmes. "Why, it might be a description of Watson."

"It's true," said the Inspector, with amusement. "It might be a description of Watson."

"Well, I'm afraid I can't help you, Lestrade," said Holmes. "The fact is that I knew this fellow Milverton, that I considered him one of the most dangerous men in London and that I think there are certain crimes which the law cannot touch and which therefore to some extent justify private revenge. No, it's no use arguing. I will not handle this case."

Holmes had not said one word to me about the tragedy which we had witnessed, but I observed all the morning that he was in his most thoughtful mood, and he gave me the impression, from his recent eyes and his abstract manner, of a man who is striving to recall something to his memory. We were in the middle of our lunch when he suddenly sprang to his feet. "By Jove, Watson, I've got it!" he cried. "Take your hat! Come with me!" He hurried at his top speed down Baker Street and along Oxford Street until we had almost reached Regent Circus. Here, on the left hand, there stands a shop window filled with photographs of the celebrities and beauties of the day. Holmes' eyes liked themselves upon one of them, and following his gaze I saw the picture of a regal and stately lady in court dress, with a high diamond tiara upon her noble head. I looked at that delicately curved nose, at the marked eyebrows, at the straight mouth and the strong little chin beneath it. Then I caught my breath as I read the time honored title of the great nobleman and statesman whose wife she had been. My eyes met those of Holmes, and he put his

Rose, is about 46 years old, and is well known in Paducah. He has resided here several years, having come here from Hardwell where he organized a bank just previous to his arrival here.

He was one of the organizers of the Globe Bank here, and for a time was cashier of the bank. He was also one of the organizers of the Home Purchasing company, and was for a time in the insurance business here.

Recently it was announced that he had accepted a position in Atlanta, Ga., but he returned to Paducah some time ago and it was supposed was to remain here. He has a wife and several children.

Rose Has $60,000 Insurance.

H. A. Rose, the dead man was 43 years old, and has $60,000 life insurance in policies, but it has not yet been ascertained whether or not any of them have lapsed.

It is not known to whom the policies are payable.

Charge of Murder Preferred.

After Rose's death a charge of murder was preferred against Loving. Not being bailable, Loving employed Officer Aaron Hurley to guard him, and he was not locked up.

Mr. Loving, after Rose's death, was again asked by a reporter for a statement, but he declined to make one, saying that he had employed Attorneys Hal Corbett, Thomas B. Harrison, and Reed & Flournoy to defend him, and they would give out any statement they might deem it advisable to make.

It is reported that some of Rose's insurance is "flyer" insurance, and will likely be contested.

Inquest Tomorrow at 9 a. m.

Coroner Crow is preparing to hold an inquest tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and is summoning witnesses. He has the pistol, a 38-calibre Smith and Wesson, with which the shooting was done and is keeping it as evidence.

Attorney Tom Harrison, who has been employed as one of the attorneys to defend Loving, stated this morning that a plea of self-defense would be made.

First Warrant for Malicious Shooting

This morning when Loving gave himself up to Chief Collins, a warrant for malicious shooting was issued and the bond fixed at $5,000, but before the bond was executed word was received of Rose's death and a warrant for murder issued. This was done within ten minutes after Loving gave himself up.

Loving Employed Dead Man's Attorney.

An unusual feature of the case is that one of the attorneys Loving has employed to defend him, Attorney Hal Corbett, was Rose's regular attorney, and Rose had not been away from the attorney's office more than ten minutes when the shooting occurred.

Because of my position as attorney for Mr. Loving," he explained to the reporter, "I can not consistently speak of the matters between Rose and myself. Mr. Rose was in my office, having had an appointment with me, but I did not see him until after 9 o'clock. I cannot state what frame of mind he was in for it might affect the case and I cannot make a statement, being placed in such a delicate position."

B. & O. TRAIN WRECKED.

Baggage-master Killed and Seventeen Were Injured.

Somerset, Pa., Aug. 3.—A Baltimore and Ohio passenger train was wrecked this morning between here and Johnstown, and one was killed and 17 injured.

The rails spread and a baggage car and coach rolled over into the creek. Going down a twenty foot embankment and killing the baggage-master. The engine and last coaches were not derailed.

Attempt to Blow Up Teneament.

New York Aug. 3.—Seven persons were injured and four overcome by smoke, in a fire which followed a diabolical attempt to blow up a tenement house in Brooklyn this morning. The building was badly wrecked and was soon a mass of flames.

STARTLING FACT MAY BE BROUGHT OUT

Rose stated, "then I shall have a card I have written out in my pocket exposing Loving in crooked dealings published in the papers."

Rose asked Attorney Eaton to go to Loving's office with him. Eaton refused and Rose left alone. Shortly afterwards the shooting occurred.

Rose's object in going to Loving's office, his attorney claims, was to give Loving his choice of signing a statement vindicating him, Rose, or having the card published charging him Loving, with wrongdoing.

On Good Terms Yesterday.

Yesterday morning a Sun reporter was in Attorney Corbett's office and Rose seemed very much worked up over the publication of an article bearing on his honesty in connection with the lumber company. He was talking of suing the newspaper.

Rose said to the reporter that the article did him an injustice in several ways and that Mr. Loving would write out a statement to this effect. His manner indicated that he and Loving were on good terms then.

One of Mr. Loving's daughters is at a picnic today and the news of her father's trouble could not be sent to her until this afternoon.

The Calro Argus of recent date says: "A cistern lies in the Ohio river opposite Slim Island, the walled bank having been washed from the bank that was once a portion of Mr. Thompson's farm. The fact that a cistern hole could be taken out in fact seems remarkable, but it is true nevertheless. The Bulletin copied the above from a New Albany (Ind.) paper. More remarkable is the fact that an egg-shaped brick and cement cistern laid on its side on the surface of the ground up town in this city for years it having been forced out of the ground by the pressure of flood water beneath it. It was a familiar sight from trains passing on the Illinois Central railroad twenty years ago, and travelers wondered how it could have happened."

The transfer boat Charles Merriam, which is on the ways at Mound City, receiving a general overhauling, will be practically a new boat. She is 210 feet long by 46 feet beam, double track. She is having new wheels put in and a new bottom. She went on the ways June 1st. There are sixty carpenters and caulkers working on the boat under Supt. E. Ohara. The boat is owned by the Cotton Belt railroad. This is the largest job ever worked upon at the Mound City ways. The machinery of the boat was shipped to the railroad shops at Pine Bluff, Ark. When the boat leaves the ways in the course of four weeks, she will be ready to receive cars at her first stop and will without doubt be the best transfer boat afloat in these waters.

HOUSED HER

IS WHAT L. F. DURAND'S WIFE CHARGES.

Quite a Sensation Created at Los Angeles, Cal., Over Arrest Yesterday.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 3.—L. F. Durand, former superintendent of the Interstate Steel company, of Cleveland, was arrested here late last night on complaint of his hand some wife, who charges that he has hounded her back and forth across the continent and threatened to kill her. Several months ago she fled from him in terror. He learned her address here and yesterday planned to have her meet him at night in front of the Westminster Hotel. She went to the officers with her story and letters to verify what she said and detectives were hidden in front of the hotel. At the appointed hour Mrs. Durand was there and the husband pounced upon her and started to drag her away, crying, "Now you come with me or I'll kill you."

Mrs. Durand discovered three months ago, she says, that her supposed husband had a legal wife and four children residing at Plainfield N. J., and for that reason she tried to leave him, but had great difficulty in escaping. He traced her relentlessly from place to place. Three weeks ago he came here and trailed her to San Diego and back. Here he watched her house day and night, and meeting her face to face two days ago threatened her. She has lived in constant dread of him since Mrs. Durand, a refined woman, was a teacher in Cleveland when she met Durand. After a short acquaintance he persuaded her to marry him, and the ceremony was performed at Syracuse, N. Y.

Justice Pierce today held Durand under bond of $1,000, setting his hearing for Thursday.

TREATING POLES

GOVERNMENT AND TELEPHONE COMPANIES TRYING TO PRESERVE THEM.

A "Treatment" Devised Which May Add Many Years to Their Life of Service.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The Forest Service of the department of agriculture has been co-operating with the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies in an endeavor to find the best methods of seasoning telegraph poles, and treating them with preservatives.

Fifty green poles were furnished by the companies every month to each of five experimental stations. Each pole was exposed to the open air and was weighed every month until it ceased to lose weight. The rate at which weight was lost showed the rate of seasoning in the different months.

After one year of seasoning the poles are treated to an application of creosote, after which they are being placed between seasoned and unseasoned poles to ascertain what additional durability is gained by the treatment. The most satisfactory way of treating them is to place the butt ends in a big vat of creosote which is boiled into them. Only about ten feet at the butt end of the pole is treated, as it is not necessary to treat the upper part, it lasting as long untreated as the part in the ground lasts when treated.

The life of a pole is measured by the life of that part of it within a foot above and below the ground. If this is well treated it will add greatly to the length of the poles. The experiment itself will not only be valuable in relation to telegraph poles, but to every farmer who uses wooden poles in the construction of fences and outbuildings. If it shall prove successful it will go a long way toward furthering the objects of the Forest Service in saving the forests from depletion.
